

Desperate Men provide consultancy and creative planning services for arts organisations and event teams, local authorities, festivals, training days, and conferences. With a twenty-eight year track record of delivering inventive and original performances, workshops and training in different arenas, Desperate Men are uniquely able to bridge the worlds of artistic practice, event production and local government.

desperate men

STREET THEATRE, OUTDOOR EVENTS & COMMISSIONS

We offer advice and consultancy from experienced artists who have an international reputation for communication, interaction and surreal creativity.

We can offer help with planning and development of events; games, role-play and activities to stimulate discussion and creative thinking; site specific expertise and creative ideas that help you focus and deliver your vision.